Forecast For Tayside, Central & Fife
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 1600 on Tuesday 25 May 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Sunny spells on Wednesday along with a few showers.

This Evening and Tonight:
Showers, mainly in Stirlingshire, dying out this evening with most areas seeing some late sunny intervals. Dry with clear periods at first, then becoming cloudy for a time overnight with occasional rain. Drier, clearer conditions following to north later. Minimum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Wednesday:
Cloudy damp start in Forth Valley then sunny spells extending from north. A few sharp showers developing in the afternoon. A warmer day with light winds. Maximum temperature 17 deg C (63 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
A mostly dry, settled and warmer spell of weather with some sunshine and light winds. However Friday looks cloudier with the chance of light rain.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.